

Prophecy Against My Wicked Land Of China

“Speak unto My people China: people of the Chin Dynasty and beyond scattered abroad: I see what you do, and I Am displeased. For you shall suffer My wrath on your endless fraud, and your crimes galore in imprisoning My people for no reason other than your dislike of them. Expect My wrath, says God, on your evil empire China, for I shall punish it exceedingly, especially the government, which is evil beyond belief. My wicked people shall be gathered up and cast into My fiery furnace of fire forever, expect it! For you will not repent unto My Son, but continue on in your sins, committing crimes against My world at every chance you can get, releasing viruses on the populace, and spreading them worldwide. For I see the crimes that you do for world domination, taking over continents through germ warfare, expecting to annihilate the world population through your bio-warfare so that you and your people can take over the planet. And for that I Am displeased, even highly burning with anger, says the Living God. For I see all that you do, and you will not get away with it all, for I Am the God of Recompense. Expect to deal with Me in all you do, for I shall shut you down, then what will you do? I shall shut down your power grid through earthquakes and disasters, and your country shall go dark. Your power grid shall be nonfunctional, and no work shall get done. Your computer networks shall be nonfunctional without the electricity of the world, and your cities shall go dark. My wrath against you shall exceed into your stockpiles of gold and silver, and even your currency shall be valueless before Me. In your time of vulnerability expect Russia to invade your land, and even the Mongol hordes to destroy your land and people with fierce fighting before Me. My judgment shall be unleashed, and many die by My wrath manifest against you, Oh wicked culture, evil China. Your LORD has spoken. Amen and amen forever!"
